Applicant's election without traverse of Group II, claims 10-20, in the reply filed on 2/14/05 is acknowledged. Please update the specification regarding related cases.

Claims 10-12, 16, 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for an adamantyl stabilized 1,2-dioxetane chemiluminescent moiety, does not reasonably provide enablement for any chemiluminescent product. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims.

The point of novelty appears to reside in the chemiluminescent moiety, not in the substrate which is taught by the references of record for the same function as claimed with chromogenic leaving groups. The chemistry of dioxetanes is complex and one would not expect any known dioxetane would work in the claimed invention. None of the references of record teach or fairly suggest the combination of the presently claimed substrates with an adamantyl stabilized 1,2-dioxetane in a kit for the claimed function of determining influenza virus with resulting luminescence.

The entire scope of the claims has not been enabled because:

1. Quantity of experimentation necessary would be undue because of the large proportion of inoperative compounds claimed.
2. Amount of direction or guidance presented is insufficient to predict which substances encompassed by the claims would work.
3. Presence of working examples are only for a single specific substance and extension to other compounds has not been specifically taught or suggested.

4. The nature of the invention is complex and unpredictable.
 5. State of the prior art indicates that most related compounds are not effective for the claimed functions.
 6. Level of predictability of the art is very unpredictable.
 7. Breadth of the claims encompasses an innumerable number of compounds.
 8. The level of one of ordinary skill in this art is variable.
- F.2d 731, 8 USPQ2d 1400, 1404 (Fed. Cir. 1988)

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 10-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Each of the following applies in all occurrences.

In claim 10(2) "system" is not understood in context what may be intended. In claim 10(2) line 1, "the presence" lacks antecedent basis. In claims 19-20, there are numerous instances of lack of antecedent basis.

The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.
